Course Description: This course will cover simple changes you can use to achieve better & quicker results with your patients. The best way to learn is by doing. This will be a hands on learning experience. You will try several styles of chairs for different types of workers; experiment with various input devices (Touch & graphic tablets, alternative mice & trackballs); & try various keyboard configurations so you feel the difference and truly learn. We will cover each area of the body as well as specific conditions. Every client has a unique mix of factors that need to be addressed. At the end of class you should feel comfortable helping your clients know how to properly adjust their chair with various alternative postures, explore equipment options, and examine technique related factors in how they type and mouse to find the right solution for their body type, specific injury, and type of work.
